MCS achieves Health Safety and Quality certifications

MCS is proud to announce that it has successfully attained ISO 9001 (Quality), AS 4801 and OHSAS 18001 (Health and Safety) certification.

Certification covers core safety and quality systems of the business which include recruitment, training, operating procedures, risk assessments, hazard identifications, safe working, toolbox meetings, incident investigations and root cause analysis, client feedback, key performance indicators, internal auditing, data reporting and continuous improvement processes. The independent audit was made by Ashburton Assurance.

MCS Managing Director, Paul Simmons said:
 "We are beyond proud to have received our certifications. Our clients will have additional comfort from knowing the safety of their assets, staff and patrons are managed by a security company operating to such high standards."
